

September 2018: 234 x 156: 200pp
Hb: 978-1-138-57533-2: $242.00 $193.60
eBook: 978-1-351-27208-7

20% Discount Available with discount code FLR40

Engendering Transformative Change in International Development

Gillian Fletcher

Series: Routledge Explorations in Development Studies

This important book is essential reading for all who would like to see a shift from instrumentalising women in the service of neoliberal development to transformative social change that tackles entrenched inequalities and challenges discrimination on the basis of gender.

Andrea Cornwall, Head of the School of Global Studies, University of Sussex, UK

This is no ordinary book about gender but a salutary and timely shock to past and much present thinking and practice in development, gender-related or not ... This is a must read for all development professionals, whether activist or academic, national or international, or working in Civil Society or government. Its exploration of frontiers of professional understanding forces us to questioning how we see things, think and act.

Robert Chambers, Research Associate, Institute of Development Studies, UK

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group

For more information please visit:
www.routledge.com/9781138575332

*This discount is only available for orders made with this flyer and in agreement with T&F ANZ. All orders will be processed in Australian or New Zealand dollars and cannot be combined with any other offer or discount. If paying by credit card please note we can only process in AUD and your bank may charge a separate transaction fee. Prices are correct when going to print and are subject to change. New Zealand customers will not be charged GST. Offer expires 31/12/2018.

Engendering Transformative Change in International Development

Gillian Fletcher

Series: Routledge Explorations in Development Studies

Engendering Transformative Change in International Development draws on a range of real world examples which demonstrate both the limitations of the frameworks currently in use, and the very real possibilities for change when the intersecting social hierarchies that sustain and create inequity and inequality are challenged. This book brings together theoretical perspectives on social change, gender, intersectionality, and forms of knowledge, concluding with a set of proposals for revitalising a change agenda that recognises and engages with intersectionality and practical wisdom. Perfect for students and scholars of social change, gender, and development, this book will also be useful for practitioners looking for new ideas to help to generate social change.

About the author

.....

Gillian Fletcher is Gender and Diversity Adviser for Myanmar NGO, Paung Ku; and Co-convenor of the Australian Council for International Development Sexual Rights in Development Community of Practice; then and Honorary Fellow, School of Politics and Philosophy, La Trobe University, Australia. She is also a member of the Editorial Board for Culture, Health and Sexuality journal.

Order your copy at routledge.com

+61 2 8778 9999
orders@tldistribution.com.au

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group